Physicians discuss personal and patient benefits of in-home cell therapy and why everyone needs it.

Dr. Juan Remos, founder of the Wellness Institute of the Americas, in Miami, has been recommending Celergen to his patients since 2012, shortly after it was introduced in the United States. In that time, he has witnessed countless positive results from Celergen. What impresses him the most is how Celergen seems to take a personalized approach to an individual's needs.

"It's as if one tiny capsule has an intuitive knowledge of what ailment a person needs addressed," says Dr. Remos, who began taking Celergen before recommending the therapy to his patients and continues to take it daily.

The benefits he witnessed from his patients corroborated his own experience. Dr. Remos recommends Celergen for a wide variety of ailments, including loss of energy, chronic pain, sleep-related issues, and mild depression, and the majority of his patients have shown vast improvement. "Celergen is the best natural product that I have come across since I started practicing medicine," says Dr. Remos. "It is definitely the next big thing for those seeking well-being and good health.

Our bodies are constantly trying to repair themselves by reproducing and revitalizing cells. The key to Celergen's success is that it packages proteins and peptides in such a way that they easily enter the bloodstream and the brain, thereby triggering enhanced cell activity. Celergen's renewal process is critical for helping keep the body's tissues and organs in optimal health."

Dr. Remos is so impressed with his patients' results while taking Celergen that he now recommends Celergen's Serum Royale, a regenerative skin serum that has been clinically proven to reduce fine lines, scars, age spots, and wrinkles: "My patients are experiencing much more energy, decreased joint and bone pain, and better sleep; and with the synergistic combination of both Celergen and the regenerative serum, the skin benefits are outstanding."

While some patients might choose to take Celergen on a short-term basis and stop after they have achieved the desired benefits, Dr. Remos strongly urges that Celergen become an ongoing part of an individual's wellness arsenal, just like a healthy diet and daily exercise.

ALL HEALING BEGINS AT THE CELLULAR LEVEL

"The beauty of Celergen is that it works on a cellular level to help combat ailments that we might not even know we have," he says. "It's a powerful ally as we grow older. All I can tell you is that I am an even firmer believer in Celergen than I was four years ago. I see proof every day that there is not a better natural therapy on the market than Celergen."

The Next Big Thing for Those Seeking Optimal Health and Beautiful Skin

In early 2012, one of Dr. Uzzi Reiss's longtime patients came to his office seeking relief from a chronic ailment. The middle-aged woman, who is married to a well-known musician, had long suffered from severe osteoarthritis.

"It was so bad that her fists looked as if they were permanently clenched," says Dr. Reiss, founder of the Beverly Hills Anti-Aging Center for Men and Women. "She couldn't straighten her fingers. In addition to the pain, it caused her great embarrassment."

Dr. Reiss suggested she try Celergen, an all-natural Swiss cell therapy treatment. When the woman returned for a follow-up three weeks later, she greeted Dr. Reiss by holding up the outstretched fingers on both hands.

"She gave me a high-five," says Dr. Reiss. "It was one of the most dramatic turnarounds that I have ever seen." Within a couple of weeks of taking Celergen himself, friends and acquaintances began to comment on his changed appearance.

"They would look at me and say, 'What have you done to your face?' They thought I'd had cosmetic surgery or something," says Dr. Reiss. "It was everything I could do to convince them that I hadn't gone under the knife. What they saw was the result of Celergen."

In Dr. Reiss's view, too many people look at life as a lottery, believing there is little they can do to improve their odds and thus resign themselves to putting up with a growing number of ailments and afflictions as they grow older. "But a long life," Dr. Reiss says, "should not necessarily mean a lower quality of life. And Celergen is vital for maintaining and even enhancing that quality."

Faster Recovery, Proven Results

Dr. Bruce Lowell, a New York internist, first began recommending Celergen to his patients in early 2013. They came to him seeking relief from a variety of ailments, including chronic pain, depression, a lack of vitality, and energy, mental focus, and various dermatological conditions. Within weeks almost all of them reported significant improvements.

"The response time was much quicker than I would have imagined, sometimes as little as two weeks," says Dr. Lowell of the Lowell

Inflammation & Insomnia

"I can't even begin to tell you how excited I am about the cumulative benefits that will occur over time for our patients who are taking Celergen. It's reducing inflammation and getting rid of everything from insomnia to muscle pain and fatigue. Within three weeks, I personally noticed glowing skin and decreased facial lines."

Dr. Stephen Pfeifer, Integrative Wellness Centers, Fishers, IN

Radiant Skin

"I've had lots of patients in their 50s, 60s, 70s, and even in their 80s who experienced noticeable visible wrinkle reduction and overall improvement in the condition of their skin. It's proof to me that Celergen indeed fights the aging process and even turns it around."

Dr. Donovan Christie, ANWAN Medical Wellness Center, Atlanta, GA

Joint Pain & Mental Focus

"Within a few weeks of taking Celergen, I noticed an overall increased energy level during my rigorous daily schedule along with less joint and muscle aches. My focus and mental clarity has also improved. In addition, my skin texture and elasticity has improved, and my face and neck look firmer and tighter."

Dr. Thomas Tzikas, Tzikas Facial Plastic Surgery Center, Delray Beach, FL

Energy & Vitality

"At 74, after bypass surgery, I figured things might never get better. Enter Celergen. I no longer wear a back brace, I work 14 hours a day, and I never complain of being tired."

Dr. Glen Guillet, Anti-Aging Cell Therapy of Texas, Beaumont, TX

Health and Longevity Center in Great Neck, New York. “Celergen’s most notable attribute is that it benefits different patients in widely different ways. Some of my patients reported improved libido and sexual performance, while some said it helped reduce joint pain and gave them a better night’s sleep. There were others who couldn’t quite put a finger on exactly how they felt better, just that they had an overall improved sense of well being.”

Dr. Lowell was so impressed by Celergen that he began taking it himself. After just a couple of weeks, he experienced a noticeable increase in energy, so much so that he felt heightened vitality throughout the day and no longer had to depend on a jolt of caffeine to combat the “four o’clock slump.”

“Having seen first-hand proof of what Celergen can do, in both myself and my patients, I know that something remarkable is definitely going on. Celergen marks the beginning of a new era in how we approach rejuvenating the human body,” he says. “The possibilities are endless and exciting.”

All Healing Begins At The Cellular Level

It was two years ago that Dr. Alex Alonso, a Miami physician, first learned about Celergen from one of his patients.

“My patient told me he had begun a treatment that significantly increased his overall vitality and energy level,” says Dr. Alonso. “He was so convincing and enthusiastic about Celergen that I decided I needed to investigate it for myself.”

As Chief of Radiology at Miami’s Jackson South Community Hospital, Dr. Alonso has long been an advocate of preventative medicine. His disenchantment with “volume-driven medicine” led him to found Miami’s Life Wellness Institute, where he uses cutting-edge techniques to improve the overall well-being of his patients. One of his most successful treatments is cellular therapy, which has been proven to significantly improve quality of life and longevity.

After researching Celergen, he found cellular therapy’s potential very intriguing. Celergen stimulates the human body's natural healing and revitalization powers by rejuvenating individual cells.

Shortly after Dr. Alonso began recommending Celergen, another one of his patients, a professional athlete, came to his office complaining of severe knee pain. After conducting an MRI that identified significant cartilage loss, Dr. Alonso recommended that the patient try Celergen for ninety days.

"Three months later, a subsequent MRI found bona fide cartilage growth in the afflicted area. Where the cartilage had once been thinning, there was now a substantial increase in volume. It was remarkable," says Dr. Alonso. "It proved to me that Celergen can play a huge role in a smart approach to health care. It produces verifiable results."

Researched Based and Clinically Proven

Celergen's effectiveness is the result of ongoing, innovative advancements in the field of cell therapy. Scientists have long been intrigued by the ability of marine DNA to offset the effects of premature aging, fight age-related degenerative diseases, boost immunity, increase stamina and advance human performance. Celergen researchers use marine species living in pollution-free, deep ocean waters and use Swiss Cold-Process DNA Extraction Technology to gather bio-available proteins essential for the therapy.

"I had read much of the literature about Celergen and was struck by the scientific research behind it," says Dr. Michael Hall, owner of Hall Longevity Clinic in Miami Beach. "Still, I was skeptical until I tried it for myself." The results, he says, are significant. "There is definitely a regenerative component to Celergen. I noticed almost immediately that my skin was softer and more elastic and my hair was fuller and not as brittle," says Dr. Hall. "I now recommend it to my patients without reservation and have heard countless stories about how Celergen has improved their lives."

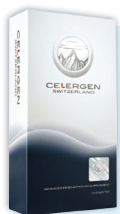

In one such instance, a female patient had long been suffering from acute pain in her lower spinal discs. She had been treated by numerous doctors, undergone repeated surgeries, and been on a wide range of medications. Dr. Hall recommended she try Celergen. "I'm pleased to report that for the first time in recent history she is living without chronic pain," he says. "Celergen is the next step in promoting wellness and fighting the aging process."

Celergen Provides Our Bodies with the Tools Needed to Heal Themselves

One of the more significant benefits of Celergen is its ability to fight chronic mood disorders. As many as 120 million people worldwide suffer from some form of depression, according to recent estimates from the World Health Organization. While anti-depressants are typically the go-to course of dealing with such mood disorders, doctors are discovering that Celergen offers both safe and tangible results.

Consider the recent experience of Dr. Sharon Norling, the only physician in the U.S. to be nationally board certified in obstetrics/gynecology, integrative/holistic medicine, and medical acupuncture. She is also founder of the Mind Body Spirit Center in Westlake Village, California.

One of her patients, a 35-year-old man, had suffered from depression and other mood disorders for years, to the point that he had

What is Celergen?

Celergen is a transformative treatment that stimulates the human body's natural healing power. Celergen Swiss Cell Therapy triggers the repair and rejuvenation of individual cells. One of its key ingredients is a proprietary Cellular Marine Complex. The complex is extracted from the DNA of deep-sea, pollution-free marine life associated with powerful anti-aging properties. Other ingredients include Peptide E Collagen, which reinforces skin elasticity, and Hydro MN Peptide, which repairs and strengthens cartilage. Unlike other cell therapies which involve injections, Celergen comes in an oral soft gel capsule.

Benefits include:

- Improved energy levels and stamina
- Reduced joint pain
- Reduced pain from osteoarthritis and rheumatoid arthritis
- Improved wound healing, skin resilience, tone, texture, and overall complexion
- Enhanced alertness of mind and focus
- Improved blood circulation
- Reduction of wrinkles, scars, and age spots
- Improved sleep
- Faster recuperation after exercise
- Improved blood-sugar control
- Increased sexual performance and satisfaction
- Strengthened immune system

become largely bedridden and seldom left his home. Dr. Norling suggested he try Celergen and the results were dramatic.

“For the first time in his life, he is no longer under the burden of depression day in and day out,” says Dr. Norling. “He has started exercising and has an enthusiasm that he never knew before. It used to be difficult to engage him in conversation. Now when he comes to my office, he chats up everyone in the waiting room. It has been a stunning turn around.”

Since then, Dr. Norling now recommends Celergen to 95 percent of her patients who suffer from mood disorders.

“I don’t believe in prescribing mood-altering drugs. So when a natural therapy like Celergen comes along, it’s a huge gift. There are no negative side effects, and it can help people live their best possible lives.”

Dr. Norling only began to recommend Celergen after considerable research on her part. “For me to recommend a therapy it must have two things going for it – a solid scientific basis with clinical trials and it must be a high quality therapy that produces results. It was clear to me from independent research that Celergen was not just one of those fads that comes along from time to time,” she says.

As for the results, Dr. Norling can speak firsthand to Celergen’s effectiveness. “I’m hard to impress when it comes to these sort of things. I go in as a skeptic. I’m a clinical thinker and demand a high level of proof. Besides that, I’m healthy and in good shape and I didn’t think I would see dramatic results. Boy, was I wrong.”

It began after just a couple of weeks, when she started enjoying a deeper night’s sleep on a regular basis – “really getting into those healthy alpha states,” she explains. Then, patients and friends began complimenting her on her appearance.

“They would tell me that my skin looked great and asked me what I’d had done. Or they would ask if I had gotten a new haircut or hair coloring when I had done nothing at all except take Celergen,” she says. “Whatever was going on was obvious to other people and, I must say, it was quite validating.”

“In addition, I’ve always had a lot of energy, but with Celergen my energy level increased. It wasn’t a hyper, twitchy sort of energy. It was a calm, focused energy with more mental clarity. My office staff told me: ‘We can tell the Celergen is working. Your desk used to be a mess, but now it’s clean and you are getting so much more done every day.’”

The Cumulative Benefits of a Long-Term Regimen of Celergen

For Dr. David Minkoff, the benefits of taking Celergen took a bit longer to reveal themselves but were no less profound. “Before injectable cell therapy was made unavailable in the United States, I had tried it with significant results,” says Dr. Minkoff. “So I was pleased to learn that Celergen had begun to make the same treatment available in a capsule form.” Founder of LifeWorks Wellness Center in Clearwater, Florida, Dr. Minkoff is a dedicated triathlete, who trains on a daily basis and is quite attuned to any changes in his body.

“I started taking Celergen and for several weeks I wasn’t convinced that anything was happening. But the changes, while subtle, were significant,” says Dr. Minkoff. “After two months, where I had been riding my bicycle 120 miles a week, I had increased to 150 miles. I was definitely getting stronger and I was coming away from my training regimen without feeling fatigued. I wanted to keep going and going.”

According to the 65-year-old Dr. Minkoff, he wasn’t alone in noticing the improvements Celergen brought to his vigor and ongoing efforts to ward off the effects of aging.

“I walked into my office one day and a couple of my staff asked what I had done to my hair. They commented on it becoming thicker and darker,” says Dr. Minkoff. “I had done nothing, of course. It was purely the result of taking Celergen.”

Dr. Minkoff’s experience with Celergen brought a noticeable payoff in Ironman competitions as well.

“After a couple of months of starting Celergen, I competed in an Ironman race and I did the best I’d ever done in my age group. The best thing was that I felt great after the race. I usually give myself a month to recover, but at the end of a week I was ready to go again.”

Energy & Sleep

“I have been taking Celergen for several years. I love it. Within the first two weeks of starting Celergen, I was amazed at the difference in my skin. It looked so much more youthful that my friends and family were asking what I had done. I have always had difficulty waking up in the morning, but I now easily and energetically get up as soon as my alarm goes off. My energy throughout the day was boosted so much that I no longer need caffeine to sustain my energy during the day and I no longer have jet lag. Celergen proves over and over again to be the most incredible therapy I have ever seen or used.”

Dr. René Dell’Acqua, Dell’Acqua Dental Studio, Palm Desert, CA

Immune System & Headaches

“I started taking Celergen two months ago and my skin has never looked better. The dark circles and volume loss have dramatically improved. I’ve also noticed significant improvement in my energy level and ability to concentrate. I no longer have headaches or allergy symptoms.”

Dr. Karla Stephen, Center for Anti-Aging, Lexington, KY

Reversing the Aging Process

“My patient response has been quite remarkable. What is special about Celergen is that it is not a pharmaceutical and yet it truly works on a cellular level to promote regeneration and can slow, if not reverse, the aging process.”

Dr. Kenneth Orbeck, Body Logic MD, Greenville, SC

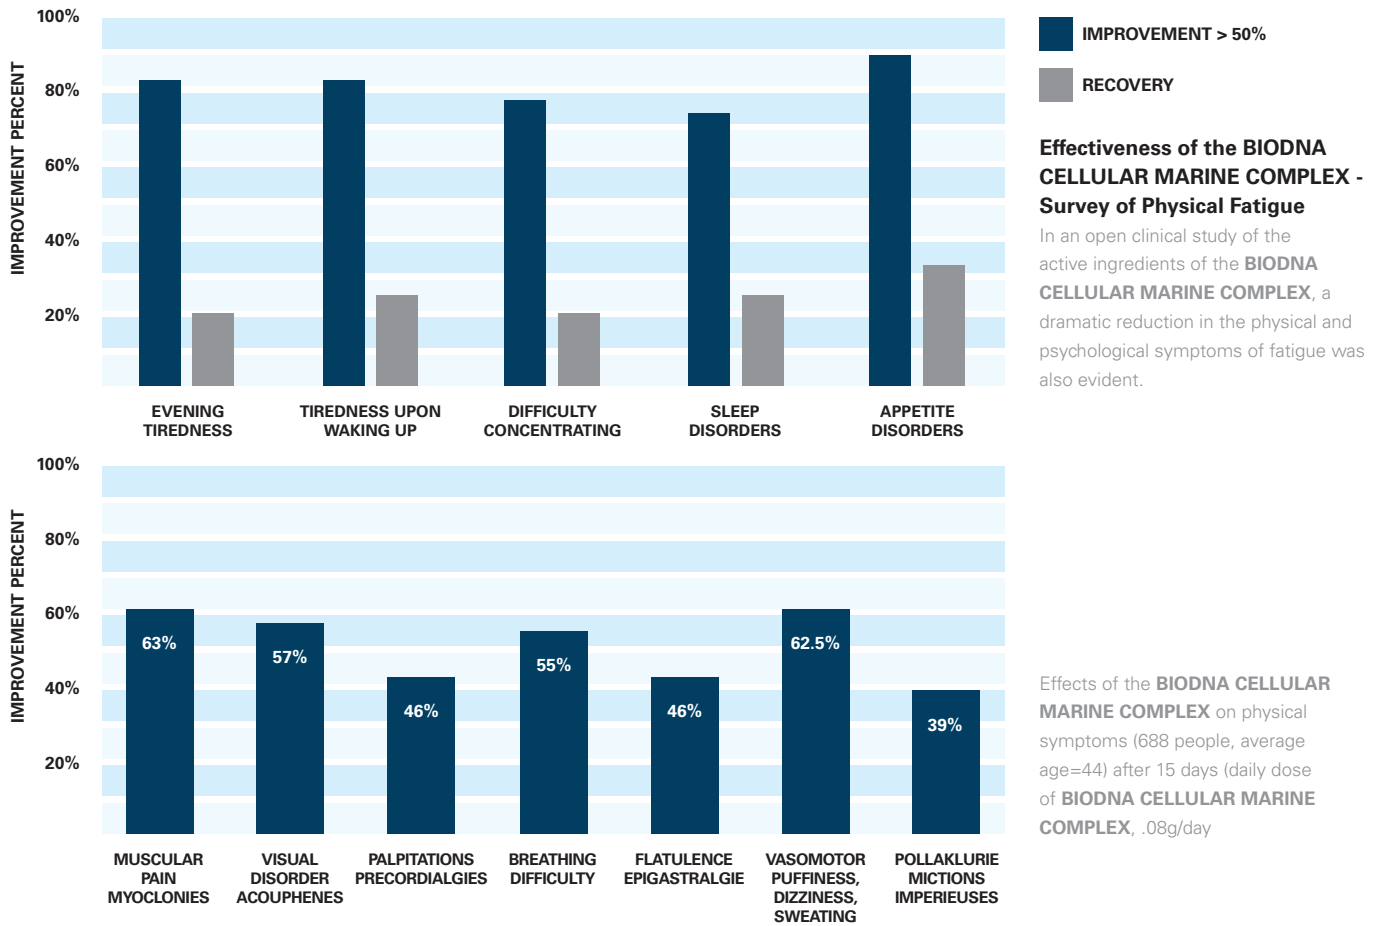

Skin Regeneration & Stamina

“Friends I hadn’t seen in a year or so would comment ‘You look great, so much younger. Did you have laser surgery or something?’ The only thing that had changed in my daily regimen was the addition of Celergen, so I had to attribute it to that. I have much more energy and stamina I haven’t felt in 20 years.”

Dr. Terry Grossman, Grossman Wellness Center, Golden, CO

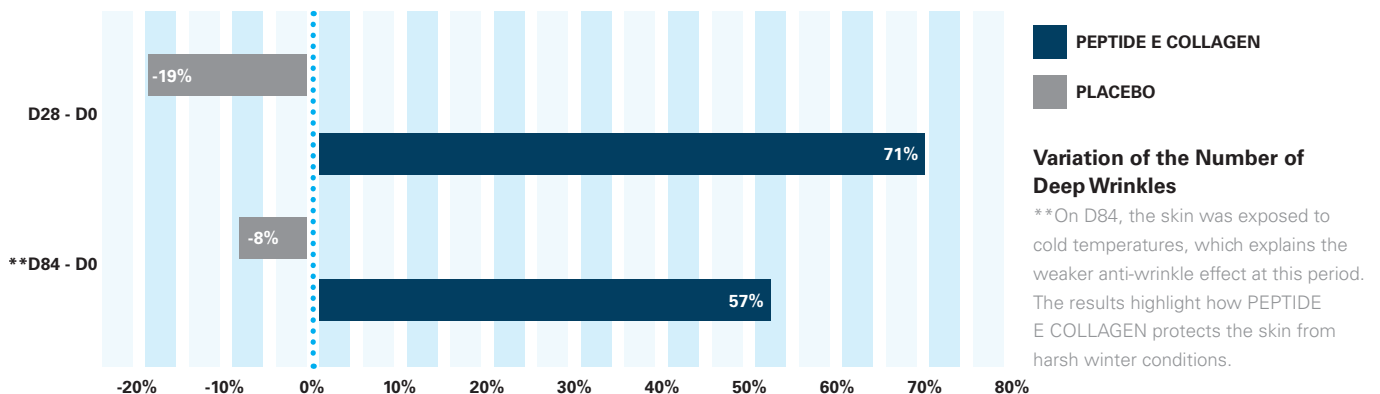

Results of Independent Clinical Studies of Celergen

Several independent clinical studies conducted in France and Switzerland demonstrate the beneficial therapy Celergen BIODNA CELLULAR MARINE COMPLEX has on cell and tissue protection and repair. Most subjects reported a significant decrease in physical fatigue, an improvement in stamina, and a dramatic improvement in recuperation during and after exercise.
